

Move Announcements

Save Time – Respect Valued Business Relationships

Move announcements can be a huge headache to plan, coordinate and deliver. Done well, the process often goes unnoticed; done poorly, the problems are highly visible, and long-lasting.

How Much Business Can You Afford to Lose?

Move announcements let business contacts, customers, past customers and future customers know how and where to contact you. Incomplete or ineffective notification can lead to lost business and lost opportunities.

A Data Minefield

Business data is not organized with move announcements in mind! Only notifying accounting lists or CRM contacts leaves many key business contacts in the dark. Correctly compiling, de-duping and segmenting data is critical for successful move announcements.

Focus & Accountability

Some companies have made the mistake of asking employees to send move announcements to their business contacts. This is almost never the most productive use of their time, and they often JUST WON'T DO IT! Worse than that is that the company won't even know whether announcements were sent or not!

“Do Not Try This at Home”

Incomplete or poorly executed move announcements present significant business risks:
Lost revenue, lost contacts, and negative perception!

Depend on WeNotify's 10-year Record of Success

The only U.S. company specializing in move announcement services, WeNotify has demonstrated excellence across multiple industries, including major retailers, grocery chains, technology, biotech, medical equipment, and professional services firms – law, accounting, medicine & financial services.

WeNotify delivers more than complete move announcement services. We offer expertise and added value that can't be found anywhere else.

Data – Design – Print & Mail – Email – Communications Planning – Marketing

For answers to your questions, or to request services, call 800-686-9496